Learn about the theory of Nature vs Nurture with iMinds insightful knowledge series. The phrase 'nature vs. nurture' refers to a long-standing debate about the importance of heredity and environment in shaping who we are. It asks whether our personality, our behaviour and our sexuality are primarily the result of genetic or social influences. The debate is central to us as human beings. Perhaps this is because it essentially asks: 'who are we?' and 'why are we who we are?' iMinds brings targeted knowledge to your eReading device with short information segments to whet your mental appetite and broaden your mind.

Researchers examine the existing state of knowledge regarding surprises (effects that are not natural extensions of existing trends) and nonlinearities (responses disproportionate to changes in stimuli that may threaten adaptive capacities) in natural and socioeconomic systems confronted with human-induced climatic change.

Drama, humor, and romance combine as the demon Ginger is caught between Heaven and Hell in this two-part story of redemption. Long ago, when they were both angels in Heaven, Lucifer tricked Ginger into going with him and his rebels when God threw them into Hell. Throughout most of Part 1, Ginger calls Hell her home, along with the other fallen angels (aka demons), although she never belonged there. She doesn't know it, however, since she has repressed her memories of Heaven, allowing her to be brainwashed into working as an Earth agent for Lucifer. By possessing humans, she does his dirty work on Earth and has become his "main squeeze." Like all demons, Ginger now has no concept of love--not until she meets

Gary. Personal relationships with humans are strictly forbidden, but Ginger no longer cares what Lucifer thinks. She decides to leave Hell for Earth and take a chance with Gary, who has no idea he's fallen in love with a demon, no less one who has repeatedly tried to murder his priest. In Part 2 of the book, with help from a former enemy, Ginger finally recalls her life in Heaven and her love for God. Relieved that the priest is unharmed, she repents and is redeemed. God makes her leave her host's body, giving her a new one with a new name. But now, Gary doesn't recognize her. It seems to Ginger like a fair punishment for serving the Devil all that time, so she tries to make a life as a human without him. But the power of love wins out. Now only one thing stands in her way--the truth. While the book includes a love story, it is far more than a tale of romance. Lucifer is as nasty as you'd expect the Devil to be, but he is also portrayed as an arrogant, bumbling buffoon and provides plenty of comic relief. Warning: Foul language from the mouths of the Devil and his demons.

Scholars of international business focus on multinational firms in the US, Japan, and the European Union to investigate how inward foreign direct investment impacts the host country and the extent to which it displaces jobs in the company's home country. Among the issues they address are European industrial relocations in low-wage countries, US direct investments abroad, the strategies of Japanese multinationals, the impact of foreign investment on the domestic manufacturing industry of OECD countries, and multinationals and technology diffusion in southeast Asia. The 12 papers are from a June 1994 conference in Paris.

Jake Wild. Hollywood's sexiest bachelor and bad boy movie director. Born from Hollywood royalty with a silver spoon in his mouth. Rich, controlling, arrogant and cocky; he can get any woman he wants. Star Davis. Rags to riches "trailer park trash" actress. Fresh out of rehab, her career in ruins. Badly needs a job. And the job she wants--no, needs--is the lead in Jake's new movie. But Jake doesn't want her anywhere near his precious film. Two beautiful misfits have met their match. A match that lights a bonfire . . . Lights . . . Camera . . . Action . . . But will the action be more than they both bargained for? Fasten your seat belts . . . you're in for a Wild ride.--Cover [page 4].
